

Remembrance Trust History

In the absence of a Memorial on the Island of Ireland specifically dedicated to the memory of all Irishmen And Women who paid the ultimate sacrifice for the cause of Peace and Freedom at home and worldwide , In early 2004 Tipperary Remembrance Trust was formed. The Trust brought together Irish Veterans and people from groups dedicated to Remembrance, Peace and Reconciliation, adjacent to St Vincents Day Care Centre within the bounds of the former Tipperary Barracks. The only remaining Portico of the Officers Mess and Quarters, The Portico was then renovated to be a Remembrance Arch in honour of all the Irish who died. President Mary McAleese dedicated it on the 30th September 2004. The Arch is also dedicated to the memory of those who came home from those conflicts, seriously injured, maimed and sick from what they through, did not survive for long after and especially whom to this day are still missing. Rolls of Honour are shown on the rear of the Arch. The Arch is not large enough to all the names but it is for all of them.

The Trust will hold a Remembrance Ceremony at the Memorial on Sunday the 2nd of October 2016 and at any time requested.
